

Undergraduate Studies

FSU's four-year graduation rate is among the top 10 in the country and the highest in Florida at 72%

Home to 12 departments, including the Center for Academic Retention and Enhancement, the Academic Center for Excellence and the Honors Program

Home to 15 programs, including the ACE Learning Studio, Presidential Scholars and Student Athlete Support

At Florida State University, we strive to provide students with the information, skills and habits of mind that enable them to fulfill their promise as individuals and community members. The Division of Undergraduate Studies works to help undergraduate students develop sound academic preparation for their field of study and encourage them to achieve their full potential.

Our programs are devoted to promoting undergraduate success, connecting them with campus, making the most of their experiences within and beyond the classroom and helping them earn their degrees at a pace that minimizes costs and maximizes learning.
